

Your pharmacy benefits

Your drug plan is an important part of your health benefits, and we wanted to remind you about some exciting news. IngenioRx, our new pharmacy benefit manager, will start managing your prescription coverage on July 1, 2019.

1 What you need to know:

- Your pharmacy benefits and cost share are not changing as a result of the move to IngenioRx.
- If you use a retail pharmacy to fill your prescriptions, make sure you show your pharmacist your new Anthem ID card. You should have already received this card. If you don't have your new Anthem ID card, you may get one at anthem.com/ca or by calling the Member Services number on your current ID card. Or you can download a digital ID card on the Anthem Anywhere app.

Check out what's new starting on July 1:

- Pharmacy Member Service experts will be available 24 hours a day/seven days a week.
- Our web and mobile tools will allow you to see all your pharmacy information alongside your medical benefit information – all via anthem.com/ca and Anthem Anywhere. You'll get enhanced tools that allow you to price medications, find and compare drug costs across pharmacies, and much more.
